Dear Awesome Person,

Welcome to my book order packet!

I want to take a moment to thank you.

I know that this stuff takes some effort, and I appreciate it.

Please invite your teachers to purchase copies too!

This packet contains:

1. This letter for you.
2. An instruction sheet (next page).
3. Letter to Parents - to be copied on the front or back of the Order Form.
4. The Mark Binder Schoolicious Book Order form to be copied and distributed to students and staff.
5. The Book & CD Order Tally sheet that keeps track of everything.

If you have any questions, problems or concerns, please call or email me.

And THANK YOU!

I love visiting schools!

Dear Parents and Caregivers,

As an author and storyteller, my “job” is to transmit the joy of reading, writing and stories.

It’s educational fun. I read, answer questions, talk about my work, and tell stories.

“Do they listen?” Oh, yes! I’m always amazed at the rapt attention that storytelling creates.

At its best, the listener and the teller vanish and all that remains is the story.

There is, however, only so much time during the school day, which is why I encourage students to “read a little every day.” I also happen to think that listening to audio books and audio stories counts!

To build on the day, hear more fun stories (and “follow” me) on Spotify
- markbinderbooks.com/spotify

We’ve created this order form, so that you can purchase personalized signed copies for your family. Young people love having this kind of direct connection with books, and a portion will go back to your school.

As a parent, I promise that your children will enjoy reading and hearing these tales. If your children are very young, (or even if they’re older,) I invite you to consider reading them aloud together.

Reading doesn’t have to be work, it’s fun. Take a look at the order form, and together pick the books for your children—and you—to enjoy.

Thanks so much!
