READER TIP: As you will see, this story can go on forever—or until the little one drifts off to sleep. It is designed for days when your brain is offline. After the first few times, you can tell it without any thought whatsoever. If the child says, “No, tell me a different story!” then you can change it to a shaggy sheep or goat or squirrel, or whatever suits your fancy. This can be quite a fun game as long as you don’t get annoyed. Hopefully, this won’t become your child’s favorite story.

Once upon a time, there was a baby shaggy dog who didn’t want to go to bed.

The baby shaggy dog pulled on the daddy shaggy dog’s tail.

“Tell me a story,” said the baby shaggy dog.

“Ok,” said the daddy shaggy dog. “Let me think. Oh, I remember one...”
